

James T. Lombardi

James Lombardi was born on August 11, 1989 in Red Bank, New Jersey and moved to Simsbury with his family at the age of three. He attended Simsbury Public Schools from kindergarten through High School and has been active in Boy Scouts since receiving his Arrow of Light from Cub Scout Pack 174. James' older brother, Michael, is also an Eagle Scout from Troop 174 and is currently a

In over seven years with Troop 174, James served as Scribe, two-time Patrol Leader of "the Bunnies" and Assistant Senior Patrol Leader. He went to Camp Workcoeman six-times and trekked through Philmont Scout Ranch in both 2004 and 2006, serving as Crew leader for his second expedition. These ten day high-adventures spent backpacking through the New Mexico wilderness were among James' favorite scouting trips. He also enjoyed hiking the White Mountains, white water rafting, biking around Block Island and all of the other campouts with the troop.

In addition to Scouting, James was a member of Simsbury High School's Cross Country Skiing, Cross Country Running, and Crew teams. He served as captain for the Cross Country Ski team during his senior year and was also an active member of the Quiz Bowl team and National Honor Society. James graduated from Simsbury High School this past June and recently completed his first semester at Lehigh University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania where he is studying Business.
